

Registration for the European Academy of Religion 2025 in Vienna is now open!

To apply for the correct registration phase, please check the early bird and regular registration deadlines: key dates.

To complete your registration, you must first apply for membership. Once your payment is confirmed, you will receive a membership code and a link to proceed with your registration. This code will allow you to choose from the available registration options: regular and student. If you wish to apply for early-bird registration, please apply for membership at least two weeks before the early-bird deadline.

Frequently Asked Questions

Can I register without a membership?

No, to register for the conference, you must first apply for membership (student, individual or collective). Once your payment is confirmed, you will receive a membership code and a link to complete your registration. This code will give you access to the available registration options: regular or student.

How many delegates can register with a collective membership?

A collective membership allows up to 10 delegates to register. Upon approval of your collective membership, you will receive a membership code that up to 10 delegates can use for their registration. Make sure the group using this membership does not exceed the 10-delegate limit.

What happens if more than 10 delegates register using the same collective membership?

If more than 10 delegates register with the same collective membership code, we will reach out to the purchaser of the collective membership with a list of all individuals registered under that code to resolve the issue. If we do not receive a response within two weeks, we will have to cancel all registrations associated with that membership code.

If someone else applied for a collective membership, can I register individually for the conference?

Yes, you can. Once you receive the membership code from your supervisor, panel chair, or colleague, you can use it to register individually. However, only 10 delegates can register using a single collective membership code.

What if I receive the registration link during the regular registration period, even though I applied for membership during the early-bird period?

In this case, you will need to pay the regular registration fee. To avoid this, please ensure that you apply for membership at least two weeks before the early-bird deadline. This will give us enough time to process your membership payment, and you will be sent a confirmation email with the membership code and registration link before the early-bird period ends.

What happens if I select the wrong registration fee option?

If you choose the wrong registration fee (for example, selecting the student fee when you are not a student), we will send you an invoice for the difference, and you will be required to pay the missing amount.

What if I need to pay a difference for the registration fee during the regular registration period instead of the early-bird period because I selected the wrong fee?

If you selected the wrong registration fee during the early-bird period and need to pay the difference during the regular registration period, regular registration rates will apply. Even if you initially registered and paid during the early-bird phase, the fee you owe will be based on the registration period at the time of the payment.

What are the cancellation terms for the conference tickets?

Refunds are available based on when the cancellation is made:

- By 02.06.2025: Full refund of the registration fee (no membership refund).
- From 03.06.2025 to 30.06.2025: 50% refund of the registration fee (no membership refund).
- From 01.07.2025 onwards: No refund will be issued. Failure to attend without cancelling by this deadline will also result in no refund.

Can I pay the registration fee on-site?

Yes, on-site registration is available. The fees applicable will be those of the regular registration phase.

What side events are available?

You can view all available side events here: Social Events

When can I register for side events?

Participants will receive details about side events in April, and registration for these events will open then.

Is there limited availability for side events?

Yes, side event participation is limited and based on a “first come, first served” basis.
